Announcement on an open Internship position in Large Animal Medicine and Surgery
at the University Veterinary Teaching Hospital of the KSVM, the Hebrew University, Israel

The offer is equally intended for men and women

The Veterinary Teaching Hospital of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem is offering an additional One-year Intern position in Equine Surgery for 2023-2024. The internship will start on August 1st 2023 and end on June 30th 2024. The goal of the program is to enable clinical experience in surgical aspects of large animal veterinary work. The successful candidate will rapidly acquire professional confidence and clinical experience in a variety of fields related to equine internal medicine, surgery and emergency medicine, under the close guidance of board-certified specialists in equine medicine and surgery.

The duties of the intern include receiving elective and emergency cases, diagnoses and treatment of hospitalized cases, maintaining contacts and updating clients and referring veterinarians, actively participating in morning rounds, journal club, book club, seminars and clinical teaching of senior veterinary students. The intern will receive and be responsible for all type of cases, including medical ones, however there will be an emphasis on surgery with relation to participating in surgeries and admitting surgery oriented cases. During the first quarter of the internship the intern will participate in a 2 week rotation of guided equine anesthesia under the direction of our board-certified anesthesiologists.

The intern will have frequent emergency shifts over the week including weekends and holidays. During the year the intern deserves 2 weeks of vacation. In order to fulfil his duties and receive an official internship graduation the interns must have a case report (or other manuscript) accepted by a peer reviewed veterinary journal. The working terms, including financial details, will be defined in a contract signed between the hospital administration and the intern. The first 3 months of the internship is a test period for both sides and the interns progress will be monitored by the senior clinicians in the department.

Minimal requirements:

The candidate must hold a veterinary degree, a one-year LA/Equine internship or the equivalent experience, and a valid veterinary license in Israel (can receive a temporary one based diploma).

The candidate should send the following documents to the address below:

- 1. Curriculum vitae (CV) including current cell phone number and email address. A passport picture is recommended.
- 2. A letter of intent stating the reason the candidate elects this program and explaining the reasons he should be elected for the position.
- 3. Veterinary degree grades during the entire program.
- 4. Diploma in Veterinary Medicine.

5. An Israeli Veterinary Medicine license, can be a temporary one (given on basis of having a DVM degree abroad).
6. Two-Three letters of recommendation from veterinarians, ideally clinicians at academic institutions. (KSVM graduates are exempted from submitting recommendation letters).

Candidates graduating from foreign veterinary schools are encouraged to first apply for an externship (http://vethospital.huji.ac.il/vet_info/externship_programs.php English version at the bottom of the page) in order for them to get familiar with our hospital and for us to get to know them.

A candidate may receive a notice that he is on a waiting list and he may be asked to arrive for an interview.

Applications should be fully submitted via email by June 15th 2023 to the email listed below.

Final answer will be given by July 1st 2023.

Requests should be sent to: gal.kelmer@mail.huji.ac.il

Best of luck!
